The Healthcie

The Healthcie is responsible for the organization of activities focussing on promoting a healthy life style, such as the Healthweek in March 2022.

The Healthweek is based on the theme “Healthy Ageing”. The week focuses on different aspects of a healthy life style: nutrition, sport, movement and mental health.

During the previous Healthweeks, students could participate in health checks, receive personal advice, follow lifestyle workshops, make smoothies, monitor their heart rate while cycling and much more!

Besides organizing the Healthweek, the committee has the freedom to organize its own activities and/or events. Last year the committee organized several interactive workshops such as a workshop on nutrition & behaviour. Additionally, the ACLO has good connections with various professionals in the fields of nutrition and mental coaching and with several studies that focus on sports, nutrition and health.
